What is it ?

CRG coin was made by Cragsman Tech Inc company.

Cragsman Tech, Inc. was created to support and amplify the crypto currency market by cutting down data analysis time and providing a first-of-its-kind automatization system, also we provide different algorithmic solutions and tools for traders, investors, financial institutions and for the people newly interested in cryptocurrency market. As the first version is launched we decided to release our coin based on Stellar network.

Stellar is an open source network for currencies and payments. Stellar makes it possible to create, send, and exchange digital representations of all forms of money: dollars, pesos, bitcoins, just about anything. It is designed so that all financial systems in the world can work together in a single network.

Stellar has no owner; in any case it is property of the public. The software runs on an open, decentralized network that handles millions of transactions every day. Like Bitcoin and Ethereum, Stellar relies on its blockchain to keep the network in sync, but the end-user experience is more like cash: Stellar is much faster, cheaper, and more energy efficient than typical blockchain-based systems.
